Do people say of our Christian communities today what they said about the first Christians, "See how the love one another"? How different our world could be if we put into practice a love like that of God and the first Christians! Christian love, the one with which we love God, people and ourselves is a love where God is its source and force. Such love, Jesus teaches asking us here to share the bread and wine.

God our Father, you satisfy our hunger for love by giving us your Son Jesus Christ. Following his example, let us send no one away empty, exclude no one, judge anyone, build no walls around ourselves or others. Let our happiness not be complete as long as our brothers and sisters suffer. Help us to take all the risks of love, for it is not so much our love we want to give but yours, which became visible in Jesus Christ our Lord.

In the sacrament we experience God's love for us. As he warmed us with his love, may we let its glow shine on those around us, with the blessing of almighty God: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
Go, and love one another as the Lord has loved you.

Reflection on Matthew on Matthew 22: 34-46

This passage from Matthew's Gospel is very close to the Golden Rule following the Sermon on the Mount. Matthew 7: 12 (Jesus said) "In everything do to others as you would have them do to you; for this is the Law and the Prophets." So, this passage says the greatest Commandment is this. "You shall love the Lord, your God with all your heart, and with all your soul and with all your mind." Then Jesus goes on to say, "And the second is like it. 'You shall love your neighbour as you love yourself.' On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." Twice we are told to treat others with love, respect, kindness and grace.

HOW MANY TIMES DO WE NEED TO BE REMINDED?? All the law and the prophets can be summed up in the way we treat others. Easy to say, but hard to do! People in the western culture are trained from birth to put ourselves in the centre of our thinking.

The economy of God throws all that away like dirty used water. This upside down God calls us to care for and accept that others need us to consider the Other as our equal, where we are called to make this our commandment to live by. We don't need to know every special verse in the Bible. We simply need to love our neighbour as we love ourselves. May our God of grace teach us all how to be people of love and grace. Amen. Blessings, May.

A prayer from the National President for Dr Helen Haines, MP.

We hold Helen, her family, friends, staff and the wider Indi community in our prayers at this distressing time. We pray for her healing and recovery, skill and wisdom for those providing her medical care, and for comfort and strength for all who have been affected by this incident.

As people of faith, we affirm the dignity of every person and reject violence in all its forms. We give thanks for the members of the community who acted quickly to assist and support Helen in the immediate aftermath of the incident. At this difficult time, may we resist speculation, hold one another with kindness, and continue to uphold compassion, respect and peace in our communities and public life.
May God's healing presence surround Helen, God's peace be with her loved ones, and God's love sustain all those who are worried and concerned. Amen

- Give thanks for the much needed rain which replenishes our water supply, nourishes the soil, brings renewal to our land. Just as your spirit provides renewal, grace, and an antidote to dry or difficult seasons in life.
- That we, the People of God, may never cease to proclaim by its teaching, life and liturgy that love of God and neighbour is the heart of the gospel let us pray: Lord, make us instruments of your love.
- God of community, Jesus showed us a new way of being community together. He reminded his contemporaries of the laws already written on their hearts, and he continues to show us what those laws require. Draw us closer in love to you so that we may more fully love our neighbours as ourselves. Help us to do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with you.
- God of the living, send us out as your people, seeing and seeking signs of you in us and amongst us. And may the inspiration of the Holy Spirit fill us with joy.
