MARKET DAY

10th October 2026

9am to 12pm

Everyone welcome!

There are few passages in the Bible which speak so poignantly of God's loving care for each of us and for His People than Matthew 21: 33 – 46.

The Church, the People of God, is God's vineyard. God, this reading tells cleared it of stones. He dug the soil. He planted choice vines in it. After all that care, He did expect good fruit. But all He got was unpalatable fruit. God created the Earth and all that moves in it. He created Man and Woman as partners in His own Image and Likeness. He wanted our Society as a sign of Peace and Love. He had shared with us the sense for Truth. He had given us the desire for the good and the pure. He had revealed to us Love and Honour. But how far do we care for these gifts of His?

God expected a sense for justice in our Society. God gave us integrity, but all around us we witness distress. He planted His word in our hearts as the foundation stone of our society for the stone was often used in the Old Testament as a sort of permanent witness to the relationship God had with Man. We have prayed: "Unless the LORD builds the house, its builders labour in vain. Unless the LORD watches over the city, the watchmen stand guard in vain." Ps 127:1 God calls his people to fruitfulness for His kingdom. For the listener to be more aware of the fruit in his or her life and listen to God's personal message about how to be more fruitful. Shalom!

Reflection on Philippians 3:4-14...Aiming for the Goal

This is Paul's message in today's reading. In Paul's striving to become like Christ, he sees three interrelated goals.... To meet and know Christ...to be found in Christ, being justified by faith...and to be with Christ into eternity. Paul here describes the ongoing journey into maturity in Christ. While this growth is ultimately dependent on the grace of God, Paul cooperates by giving all his energy towards the goal and the ultimate prize. Nothing can intrude and cause him to lose focus.

He set aside the things which were of tremendous value to him...family, tradition, strict obedience to the Jewish law, education, heritage, status. He changed his mindset towards simply being what Christ would have him to be. He realised that his salvation did not depend on his deeds; that we all fall short of God's holy standards, that salvation was only achievable through God's grace. Knowing Christ is certainly worth any sacrifice!

Paul reminds us of the goal we are moving towards...the prize that we are striving to attain, the prize God gives us, not because we have somehow earned it...but simply because he loves us. This prize is what God offers us freely because of what Christ has done for us. Only by abandoning all reliance on our own works, can we go on to maturity and fulfilment in the Christian life...towards that ultimate perfection that we will find in eternity. Let go and let God...that's Paul's message for us today!

Paul tells us plainly what we should do. We need to strive to know Christ, to be found in Christ, and finally to be with Christ. We move from the point where we start our relationship, forgiven and free, through the progress of becoming more like Christ in our daily walk with him, towards complete perfection in eternity.....Shalom, Jean

- United with our Lord Jesus Christ as branches of the life-giving vine, let us pray to the Father for everything that the Church and the world need, that we may be grateful the Lord has made us the vineyard and the tenants from whom he expects much, may we respond to his expectations.
- God our Father, may we become what you have called us to be: your holy people, your vineyard and respond to your love in Jesus our Lord.
- Pray for students from our local community and those returning from distant homes as they prepare for Term 4 in schools across the Southern Downs. May they know learning is a gift, and help them find moments of curiosity, wonder, and friendship in their daily routines.
- Pray for those who will be busy this week preparing for the Market Day next Saturday. May every interaction — either with fellow workers or members of the public—reflect Your love, grace, and goodness, making it a blessed day for our whole community.
